

CONFIDENTIAL

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Thursday - 3 September 1964

Page 2

4. (Unclassified - GLC) By way of follow up to our conversation of yesterday, I advised Mr. Fletcher, in the office of Representative Watkins H. Abbott, that we had checked with our [redacted] and our [redacted] had been in touch with Mr. E. J. Ruderhausen. (See Journal of 2 September 1964.) Fletcher thanked me for this information.

25X1
25X1

5. (Confidential - GLC) Saw James Randall, Staff Director of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee. I advised him that pursuant to Senator Stennis' request, our people had talked with him [redacted] that according to our field report they had a good talk with the Senator who seemed to appreciate the information they provided (he was interested in the stability and effectiveness of the NATO alliance particularly the effect of the Cyprus conflict on NATO) even though this was a matter in which they were only peripherally involved. Randall said he had not had an opportunity to talk with the Senator since his return and appreciated this advance information.

25X1

6. (Confidential - GLC) Left with Robert Michaels, House Appropriations CIA Subcommittee staff, a copy of the translation of the pamphlet "Know Your Enemy." In its original form this was [redacted] language pamphlet [redacted] as an attack on U.S. intelligence. (This had been mentioned by the Director in one of our briefings of the CIA Subcommittee.) I told Michaels that since this document had been effectively suppressed it was our feeling that no action should be taken on it, however, we did want to make a copy of the document available in the event a member was interested in seeing it.

25X1
25X1

7. (Unclassified - GLC) Left for Representative Jeffery Cohelan a copy of the memo by [redacted] on "Trends in the World Situation." Mr. Cohelan had written to [redacted] requesting a copy of his paper. I explained that [redacted] was out of the city and his office had asked us to make the copy available.

25X1
25X1
25X1

CONFIDENTIAL